294 Fezell has our support

To the Editor:

During the past year our family has had contact with McLennan County District Attorney Vic Fezell and several members of his staff regarding the prosecution of two defendants in two felony trials.

We are very grateful for the efforts of Fezell, Assistant District Attorneys Deanna Fitzgerald and David Deaconson and former Assistant District Attorney Ned Butler in bringing the two defendants to justice.

We would particularly like to thank Lisa Harrison, who is in charge of the district attorney's Victims Assistance Program. Without her expertise, guidance and concern for the witnesses and the victim, they could easily have been overwhelmed by the judicial process.

We wholeheartedly support this aspect of prosecution because we saw firsthand the difference it can make in the outcome of a trial.

We were also impressed that Fezell stopped by the courtroom several times to reassure us and to speak with his assistants about the progress of the trials. This gave us the feeling that we were more than "just another case," and that everything was under control.
