McLennan's DA Will Be Subject Of '60 Minutes'

McLennan County District Attorney Vic Fezell will be the subject of a "60 Minutes" report Sunday at 6 p.m. on CBS-TV.

The report is expected to deal with three investigations: a Fezell probe of murder confessions made by convicted murderer Henry Lee Lucas in McLennan County; and subsequent investigations of Fezell himself, which were launched by the Texas Department of Public Safety and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

During his confessions, Lucas was being held by the Texas Rangers, which operates under the auspices of the DPS.

Fezell's investigation concluded that Lucas could not have committed the three McLennan County murders to which he confessed. Fezell has called the DPS and FBI investigations retaliation for his "stepping on the wrong toes."

CBS-TV Correspondent Harry Reasoner spent several weeks in September and October researching the story in Texas.
