Mind your own closet

To the Editor:

It seems to me the hostilities the Waco Police Department has for the district attorney's office have gone on long enough.

I know there is enough crime to keep both offices busy. The police department expects cooperation from all citizens, yet it will not cooperate with the citizens' district attorney's office.

I believe we have an honest Christian man for our DA and he is devoted to improving Waco.

That Vic Feazell is not a "yes man" to anyone is certainly no reason to try and make him look ridiculous or incompetent.

I think all of our City Council members, police department personnel and other elected officials should clean out their closets first and then, if time permits, help others do the same.
