Spence where he belongs

To the Editor:

I am really not interested in David Wayne Spence's assessment of his innocence [Page 1A, Dec. 16].

The part about death with honor was sickening. Spence deprived three young people of having death with honor. I'll never forget the TV coverage showing the poor teenagers being carried out of the park in body bags by strangers.

Vic Feazell and Ned Butler did a splendid job on that case.

David Wayne Spence is where he belongs — Death Row, awaiting execution.

Waco will breathe a sigh of relief when that is carried out.
